I had a dream, a love dream so tender
You were with me, old friend, we gave in to sweet surrender
Now, I've held it in through October, November
No wonder, I never been the same since then

I picked up my phone, a million times to call you
But I lost my nerve, 'cause every time I saw you
Like a lovesick kid, child it was my paranoia
You'd laugh, but instead
You read these thoughts inside my head

And it's you
It's been you all the time
You're changing my whole state of mind
It took just a minute
But now that I'm in it

It's you, darlin'
It's been you all the time
Like somebody turned on a light
Come on and watch me shine, boy
It's been you all the time

Now when you smile the world opens up for me
You're just my style and this time I do believe
We're two of a kind how could I be so blind
My heart, it's sincere
I believe, I've wanted you for years and years

And it's you, baby
It's been you all the time
Oh, you're changing my whole state of mind
It took just a minute
But now that I'm in it

It's you, darlin'
It's been you all the time
Like somebody turned on a light
You gonna watch me shine, yes
It's been you all the time
Yes, oh, oh, baby

Oh, now, to think you've always been right here
And loneliness has been my greatest fear
Until I saw the answers in your eyes
Yes, I did and at last it's clear
Now, I see that you're the only one for me

For me baby, it took just a minute
But now that I'm in it
It's you, darlin'
It's been you all the time
Like somebody turned on a light
You gonna watch me shine, boy
It's been you all the time

It's been you all the time
Baby, you turned on a light
I said, it took just a minute
But now that you got me in it
I'm lovin' you, yes
Come on and watch me shine
It's been you all the time

It's been you all the time
It took just a minute
But now that I'm in it
It's you, baby

It's been you all the time
Oh, like somebody turned on a light
You gotta watch me shine
It's been all the time, yes
All of the time
