[Dolvin Talks:]

"Well It's been a long, cold, lonely ride.
Blood takes the lead on down the line.
Some know it, some never try.
To go down that dark and crooked mile..."

I've seen his weary eyes. I've walked that feed kill chain.
My love it's been a while but I'll be there again.

[Chorus:]

So when I die, lead my remains into the fire.
So that my soul flies, and I reach the end of the line.
Burnt to a shell...

I know a deep dark secret - I know a lie.
I learned well how to bend, brake, steal and pry.
But in the back of my mind I always knew -
It only hurts a while 'till it burns you trough.

Send me another mile down. Complete the divine.
Everything must go and I'll know when it's my turn to ride.

[Chorus:]

So when I die, lead my remains into the fire.
So that my soul flies, and I reach the end of the line.
Burnt to a shell... YEAH!

Hell! Is my desire for truth and pride.
I will love.
I will live.
I will not be controlled no more.

[Chorus:]

So when I die, lead my remains into the fire.
So that my soul flies, and I reach the end of the line.
Burnt to a shell...
