Give it away, watch it turn - there's nothing I can do for you

These are my very last and don't we all know it...

As chemistry turns into crime

I'm helplessly watching it die

You were never supposed to be

Someone who'd get this close

This is not my victory

Get your sickness away from me

Accusation in velveteen

Tear it up, tear it open and lay it beside me...

Show me a way, something frail

Gimme one reason to break these chains

I played your very last - all your desires

But something inside of me broke

I used to be more than this ...

You were never supposed to be

Someone who'd get this close

This is not my victory

Get your sickness away from me

Accusation in velveteen

Tear it up, tear it open and lay it beside me...

Together we fall

Together we fail

Drain me from all life inside

I will hurt you ever so carefully

We will breathe in unison through an iron lung

For the lost things we become

I'll be your crown of thorns

You'll be my cross to bear

You hate me so good!
