Heard you say
You're too good for me
When you got dumped to called me over
It blew my head away
Never wanted me
Now you left the keys
Through the dark and up the stairs
I can hardly breathe
Waited all my life
For this kiss tonight
Sneaking out your window now
There is only one way out
The grass is so far down
My pants are falling to the ground
Two is company and three is a crowd

Regret it, forget it
How I met your mother now
Sneaking out
We're naked now
In the dark our lips connect
Hush, don't make a sound

Then I knew
Too good to be true
Those green eyes they turn to blue
Realize it wasn't you
Waited all my life
Then it crashed tonight
Sneaking out your window now
There is only one way out
The grass is so far down
My pants are falling to the ground

Regret it, forget it
How I met your mother
And you ran into the room
You scream and didn't know what to do

I never dreamed this how we'd be
One day I hope you forgive me
So tell me

Now who's laughing?
Heard you say
You're too good for me
Now your mom just picked me up in her escalade
Sneaking out your window now
There is only one way out
The grass is so far down
My pants are falling to the ground

Regret it, forget it
How I met your mother
