Can see it in your heart
Only glitter on the outside
Shinning in the dark
Blind me with your light
Shine so bright
So all I see is you
Crystallised
It's just the light passing through

I've been searching for what's inside
You've been hiding crystallised

Escape from my heart
Escape from my heart
Escape from my heart
Escape from my heart

Close enough to touch
Nothing's connecting
All that's around you
Just colours reflecting
Shone so bright
So all I saw was you
Crystallised
It's just the light passing through you

I've been searching for what's inside
You've been hiding crystallised

Escape from my heart
Escape from my heart
Escape from my heart
Escape from my heart

Everything seems different
Even though everything's the same
I thought I was right the first time
So why am I questioning
How was I to know
Why do the days all slip away
I just wanted to be worth it

That's why I keep on searching

I've been searching for what's inside
You've been hiding crystallised

Escape from my heart
Escape from my heart
Escape from my heart
Escape from my heart
