How could it be
That you know me
My deepest fears
My fantasies
Confide in you
What no one knows
But it feels so real
When I close my eyes
I can see your face
When I lick my lips
I can taste your smile
When I see your name
My heart starts to race
If I can't read your thoughts
Then I feel empty
Is this a new
Way to love
Never face to face
Is it enough
Does it really count
Or am I a fool

So tell me please

Am I wasting my time

Your phrases

Descriptive

And through the textured words

With beauty

You post it

And use such colored verbs

We've never met

When I close my eyes

I can see your face

When I lick my lips

I can taste your smile

When I see your name

My heart starts to race

If I can't read your thoughts

Then I feel empty

I'm rushin' home

To turn you on

Sometimes you're there

Sometimes you're gone

Wait for hours

For your return

So tell me please

Am I wasting my time

Your phrases
Descriptive
With beauty
You post it
And use such colored verbs
So tell me
You think that
Maybe we've gone insane
To find a, a lover
And through the words of pain
We've never met
When I close my eyes
I can see your face
When I lick my lips
I can taste your smile
When I see your name
My heart starts to race
If I can't read your thoughts
Then I feel empty
