

The Gabe Dixon Band

"Come Around"

Visit "Come Around" on MotoLyrics.com

There's a scared child behind angry words.
Sometimes what you say is so absurd.
I am reaching out against the trend.
You'll still find me here if you need a friend.
I just don't understand why you're bringing me down
when there's so much madness to be found,
when my mind is finally halfway sound.
I will wait for you love. Come around.

Life was simpler without you here
when your problems didn't reach my ear.
I will borrow you for this night
and to sorrow we will say goodbye.

I just don't understand why you're bringing me down
when there's so much madness to be found,
when my mind is finally halfway sound.
I will wait for you love. Come around.

When the people seem to lose their voice
and are victims to the evil choice,
Can we rise from this darkness yet?
Can we live our lives without regret?
I just don't understand why you're bringing me down
when there's so much madness to be found,
when my mind is finally halfway sound.
I will wait for you love. Come around.

There's a wisdom for this crazy time.
There's a hopefulness that is sublime.
We will follow the better way,
reach for beauty today.

I just don't understand why you're bringing me down
when there's so much madness to be found,
when my mind is finally halfway sound.
I will wait for you love. Come around.
I will wait for you love. Come around.
I will wait for you love. Come around.

