Driving down an old road
I've been driving for so long I don't know

I just watch time pass
The clock on my dashboard

Sometimes I need to unwind so I sit and I drive just to count the lines
End up in an unfamiliar place where I have enough space to waste a little time
Get away from the stresses of the day, let the radio play and I'm singing along
To songs
Songs that set my soul on fire

No one knows where I can be found
But the world still goes around and around

I come back home
And no one here even noticed I was gone

Sometimes I need to unwind so I sit and I drive just to
count the lines
End up in an unfamiliar place where I have enough space to waist a little time
Get away from the stresses of the day, let the radio
play and I'm singing along
To songs
Songs that set my soul on fire

Echoes of the ghosts
Haunt this long and lonely road

Pink Floyd, Crosby, Stills and Nash, Jimmy Page and Johnny Cash,
Everyone that I admire
Stevie Ray, Hendrix and The Birds,
John Lennon never heard it but I pray he wouldn't hate it Mom and Dad for the chance they never had,
But they still sang me songs as a baby boy
Thanks for all you've inspired

And every time you set my soul on fire
