And it hurts the most, a panic from the storm
A constant ache, that won't go away
These four walls hold the weight
All of this is about to break

Give me tomorrow's dose today Something strong enough to medicate
Give me anything but this Give me one more fix, to take the pain away

Hope lies awake, as the darkness fades Desperation fills the space
These four walls hold the weight
One by one they'll break away

I'll run to you, until you tell me to Run away
