Heading to the place where there is no sound
Magnifying glass focusing rays down
Broken bottles shine, buried in the burning sand
Listen to the sirens that disrupt the air
Wishing from the grass, stepping through lawn chairs
Metal detectors watching dropping change

Save it for the other side
Stop the flow
Save it for the other side
Under tow
Save it for the other side

The human natives, surface faded, life begins to bend
Sinking slowly, pressure building, broken frets of sand
Darkness colder, below the body, pulse swaying
Lung decaying, falling freely, through the liquid sky

Staring from the edge of the sunset's lifting
Moving out the back that the lines are shifting
Dive into the fog, there's a drift between the blue
Listen to the ticking of the time mechanics
Lock into the ground, and there is no panic
Broken rocks reflect a shadow growing small

Save it for the other side
Stop the flow
Save it for the other side
Under tow
Save it for the other side

The human natives, surface faded, life begins to bend
Sinking slowly, pressure building, broken frets of sand
Darkness colder, below the body, pulse swaying
Lung decaying, falling freely, through the liquid sky

Die, you gain,
Feeling so fine now
Fly away,
Feeling so fine now
Die, you gain,

Feeling so fine now
Fly away,
Feeling so fine now
