(Verse 1)

You're always caught up in,
Communication.
With different dials and,
Different stations.
It's something I thought I'd mention,
Cos I'd like to have some of,
Your attention.
You're always worried bout
What you're missing,
But you don't ever know,
Because you never listen,
I'm exercising my patience,
Cos there's a, a complete lack of conversations.
And you keep changing the stations,
And you keep changing the station.

(Chrous)

So anyway,
I thought that I'd remind myself,
How I hate these stupid songs,
That make everybody sing along,
So anyway,
I thought that I'd remind you,
That you're singing along with them too,
But I guess that's why,
I'm singing this to you.

(Verse 2)

You're always talking 'bout,
The next big thing,
And shouting every word
So they cannot hear you sing.
But you don't look for the meaning,
You're too busy,
Making sure that they hear you screaming.
All I want is to have you listen,
But you're too busy searching
And leaving me wishin'.
And so I waste all my time,
Making up words that you like cos they rhyme.

But you're still changing the stations,
And you're still changing the station.

(Chorus)

Ba ba ba ba, BA!
Ba ba ba ba, BA!
Ba ba ba ba, BA!
Ba ba ba ba, BA!
But you keep changing the stations,
But you keep changing the staaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaaa...

So anyway,
I thought that I'd remind myself,
How I hate these stupid songs,
That make everybody sing along,
So anyway,
I thought that I'd remind you,
That you're singing along with them too,
But I guess that's why,
Maybe I don't know why,
I guess I don't know why.

Instead of making sense of this,
I'd like to write a song,
Sing along, sing along, sing along, sayyyy...
Instead of making sense of this,
I'd like to write a song,
Sing along, sing along, sing along, sing a long, sing a
long, sayyyy...
Instead of making sense of this,
I'd like to write a song,
Sing along, sing along, sing along, sing a long, sing a
long, sayyyy...
Instead of making sense of this,
I'd like to write a song,
Sing along, sing along, sing along, sing a long, sing a long, sayyyy...
