Heyyyyyyyyyyyyy.....

Are you scared this sounds familiar?

What if everybody knew

There are trials and temptations we put ourselves through

Now I am no angel but I got nothing to hide

Can you say the same thing for yourself tonight?

What can I keep for myself if I tell you my hell what would be left to take to my grave and what's left for you my lover to save

What's left for all of you to take

if I put too much blood on the page

If I put too much blood on the page,

if I just tell you the truth are there only lies left for you

If I put too much blood on the page

Now as my ear turn witness to the pride and the shame are you worried I'll say too much are you scared to take me away

Now I am no devil but I've got things on my mind and they're gonna come out and they're gonna come up time to time

What can I keep for myself if i tell you my hell what'll be let to take to my grave

What's left for you my lover to save what's left for all of you too take

If i put too much blood on the page

If I put too much blood on the page

And if I just tell the truth are there only lies left for you

If I put too much blood on the page,

What can I keep for myself if I tell you my hell what
would be left to take to my grave?

And what's left for you my lover to save what's left for all of you to take

If I put too much blood on the page

If I put too much blood on the page

If I just tell the truth are there only lies left for you

If i put too much blood on the page again
