Doctor said I, I'd be alright...

Oh, everything that I believed, it wasn't true

I found it out when I got close to you

I thought you were different, like a dream

Things they ain't never what they seem, whoa...

Thought I could trust you with my soul

But you can't do that anymore

The doctor said I'd be alright, but I still feel blue...

The doctor said I'd be alright, but I still love you...

Love you, hate you...love you, want you...hate you...ah, yeah...

I'm different

Me myself, I'm different than all the rest

I can only speak for myself, but people can trust me
