Don't feel like home
he's a little out and all these words elope it's nothing like your poem

Putting in, inputting in don't feel like methadone a scratching voice all alone it's nothing like your baritone

It's nothing as it seems the little that he needs is home
the little that he sees is nothing he concedes is home

One uninvited chromosome a blanket like the ozone

all that he needs is home the little that he frees is nothing he believes saving up a sunny day something maybe two tone anything of his own a chip off the corner stone who's kidding?, rainy day a one way ticket headstone occupations overthrown a whisper through a megaphone

and all that he frees a little bittersweet, it's home
the little that you see is home
