Here's to those who love, not too wisely no, not too wisely, but too well.

- To the girl who sighs with envy when she hears that wedding bell.

- To the guy who'd throw a party if he knew someone to call.

Here's to the losers -- bless them all

- Here's to those who drink their dinners when the lady doesn't show.

- To the girl who'll wait for kisses underneath the mistletoe.

- To the lonely summer lovers when the leaves begin to fall

- Here's to the losers -- I bless em all

Hey Tom, Dick and Harry, come in out of the rain, those torches you carry must be drowned in champagne

-Here's the last toast of the evening

-Here's to those who still believe all the losers will be winners, all the givers shall receive

- Here's to trouble free tomorrows, may your sorrows all be small

Here's to the losers -- bless them all!
