Go on and take what you want
You've had enough all along
The sun always breaks to hide your mistakes
You'll come back to me someday

Go now and find your own way
Don't look to me for your change
The sun always breaks to hide your mistakes
You'll come back to me someday

Please don't think of me for Christ's sakes
I'll be gone before the daylight breaks

Go out and search for your soul
Don't look too far past your own
The sun always breaks to hide your mistakes
You'll come back to me someday

Each night you take out alone
Hoping to have what you don't
The sun always breaks to hide your mistakes
You'll come back to me someday

Please don't think of me for Christ's sakes
I'll be gone before the daylight breaks
Please don't think of me for Christ's sakes
I'll be gone before the daylight breaks

Go on and take what you want
I'll be gone before the daylight breaks
