Heaven or hell I must confess
Since you're away my heart's a mess
Adrift upon this lonely sea
Reach down your hands and rescue me

No matter what they say
That's all that remains
The days that come to haunt you
I won't let them take you
There's nothing left to say
Love will find the way
The consequence they gave you
I won't let them take you
No, no
No, no
No, no
I'll never let you go

No voice could tell these subtle lies
Inside your hands my heart does lie
And through your distant memories
Touch from afar they comfort me

Promise still remains
Love will find a way
The complicated run through
I won't let them take you
That's just the way I feel
Life can be so real
The consequence they gave you
But I won't let them take you
No, no
No, no
No, no
I'll never let you go

So lay your weary hands in mine
I'll give you everything but time
Alone above this crowded sea
Reach down your voice and carry me

The difference has passed
Our love was built to last
Gone for what you've been through
I won't let them break you
That's just the way it goes
Sometimes nobody knows
Whatever burns inside you
But I won't let them take you
No, no
No, no
No, no
I'll never let you go
