

The Getaway Plan

"February"

You are the stars looking down on the world from afar
You will shine through the night, an eternal beacon of light
Yeah, and you are the sun, beaming life into everyone
You will light up the sky 'til the day that the universe dies

Don't fall asleep
The night has only started
There's time to keep
And we are only young
If we kiss, we'll ignite
We can set this whole damn world alight
And everything we know will burn away

You are the trees, making oxygen so I can breathe Over time you will rise, with your branches sturdy and wide
And you are the earth, and I'll tell you for what it is worth
That your core is alive, it's my only chance to survive

Don't fall asleep
The night has only started
There's time to keep
And we are only young
If we kiss, we'll ignite
We can set this whole damn world alight
And everything we know will burn away

And if you love me, then please let me know
Cause I believe that my heart is your home
But then when February comes, I hope that you know
I hope that you know that I'll hold you close

Don't fall asleep
The night has only started
There's time to keep
And we are only young

Don't fall asleep

The night has only started
There's time to keep
And we are only young
If we kiss, we'll ignite
We can set this whole damn world alight
And everything we know will burn away
