And this decision
The light is bleak
And you are awake
And I can barely see the ground beneath my feet.

But I can't do this all on my own,
I'm gonna need some help tonight
Moving backwards on your way out.

'Cause I never told you, I never told you
That we've been waiting, we're waiting too long
'Cause I never told you, I never told you
That we've been waiting, we're waiting too long.

If you can be sure
That it's the only thing you're thinking of
The nights are silent
And it all comes back to this.

'Cause I never told you, I never told you
That we've been waiting, we're waiting too long
'Cause I never told you, I never told you
That we've been waiting, we're waiting too long.

But the night has come undone now
But the night has come undone.

I never told you, I never told you
That we've been waiting, waiting too long
I never told you, I never told you
That we've been waiting too long.

'Cause I never told you, I never told you
That we've been waiting, we're waiting too long
'Cause I never told you, I never told you
That we've been waiting, we're waiting too long, long.
