oh, how beautiful you are
I know you've traveled far through sun and rain just like a dream, an elusive fantasy a free spirit roaming day to day if I could get to know you how I'd love to love you living life so wild and free a master of your destiny Diablo, the one who runs free Diablo, run free

free

oh, and so here we are with you my dreams are not that far away so much that I knew has changed now knowing you letting go is hard to do, why don't you stay?

if I could only hold you maybe I could be as bold as you something 'bout the way you stride, your head held high, so much pride
free
free
