When the penny drops, the penny drops
When the penny drops, the penny drops

When your soul has been neglected for some time now
Like the dust on a window with no view

When the penny drops, I'm out the door
Fireman to a burning store
When the penny drops, the penny drops

When the girls look so good in your reflection
And your eyes look around for someone new

And then the penny drops, I'm out the door
Fireman to a burning store
When the penny drops, the penny drops

Where are you, where are you

When I find eternal love it has no virtue
And my thoughts hope you'll always pay your dues

And then the penny drops, I'm out the door
Fireman to a burning store
Then the penny drops, the penny drops
Then the penny drops, the penny drops

But my soul's not weak and my tender streak
Forgives you when I'm not grounded
But my extra senses make no sense of you
Where are you

When the penny drops, I'm out the door
Fireman to a burning store
When the penny drops, I'm out the door
Fireman to a burning store
When the penny drops, I'm out the door
Fireman to a burning store
When the penny drops, the penny drops
When the penny drops, the penny drops
