There are no sides to choose from, just things to hate.
And I for one, hate myself today

Bring me down.

Don't listen to me, if you're not ready
Cuz bravery means more to me than just fighting

Shoot and kill, it's dead and gone.
Now please just forget me.
Famous or, infamous
I've made my mark and this is where I stand.

I have heard bravery is a ghost town that's nice to visit.
Who wants to stick around and play the mayor with me?

Today cowardice comes so easily.
And failure comes naturally to me.
I've been knocked down before.
Time to get the fuck up!

This is past the point of words,
So grab your guns and follow me...
