Mind Over Matter

So hollow, have you all gone blind?
Every word you swallow
Every thought confined

Creation of rules by which you live or forever you are lost

Pray for salvation in bright neon light
Mind over matter
Searching in vain for duality
This is a world gone insane

Outgrowing the thickness of your skin
Is he a man of wonder?
Will he judge your sins?
Who is the scapegoat that you blame every time you've done wrong?

You got to pray for salvation in bright neon light
Mind over matter
Searching in vain for duality
This is a world gone insane
