could it be the way the words you try to say their coming out so back wards and side ways and if i am correct your doing this again to make it up to anyone differently who do you believe the beauty or the beast your cinderella has confaried friend do you have to prove you fit in side my shoe no one else can even bother to look at you you look at me think about reality come in side have a beer drink until your thoughts ar clear could it be that you and me never have to fall asleep no body knows can i come ive been waiting here so long

every single day and every word i say i no your just another guy following over you is something i do i cant control im sorry i cant find i see it in your eyes and i see them in my mind i thought about me ever since i got my finger proof theirs nothing i can do hardly can live up to your differnece i look at you you look at me step into reality come inside have a drink have another if please could it be that you and me never have to follow asleep no body knows till they come and ive been waiting for so long i look at you you look at me i think about relaity you come inside have a beer drink until your thoughts are

asleep i look at you you look at me step into reality come inside have a drink have another if please could it be that you and me never have to follow asleep no body knows till they come and ive been waiting for so long
No body knows till your gone
