I gave up looking for a reason To live with things just the way they are Used to be easy to get to I came around And they got to me just about every way Not much to choose from Grew up all along thinking that you couldn't lose Caught with no cards up your sleeve Don't want to live without that security You think with just a little more Can't stop the world Things will be alright (You) can't stop the world Why let it stop you Can't stop the world Why let it stop you Why let it stop you Your heart, your will, your car- They've all been broken You got beat You let everybody know about your better days And it's not entertaining Watching you try to stand up on your feet again (You) can't stop the world Can't stop the world Can't stop the world Don't let it stop you Don't let it stop you Don't let it stop you
