Anything, anything
Anything, anything

All that you needed, all that you know
Inside you, inside you
All that you wanted, all that you hope
Inside you, inside you

Anything you want
Anything you want

Teach me your language
And I won't forget about you, about you

And this world holds nothing
And your voice has faded
But I hear you
And I, I want to know

Don't send me out there
I will forget about you, about you
Give me directions
Tell me so I can find you, can find you

Anything you want
Anything you want

Tell me I'm not alone
Tell me I'm not alone

And this world holds nothing
And your voice has faded
But I hear you
And I, I want to know

All that I needed, all that I know
About you, about you
Make me a promise, don't let me breathe
Without you, without you

Anything you want
Anything you want

And this world holds nothing
And your voice has faded
But I hear you
And I, I want to know

Anything
