I tried to catch a pigeon
I grabbed him then he slipped away
We had our fun together
On that sunny day
One day our candles died
And I fell in a hole of depression
I guess that one of us is running
In the wrong direction

But we can act like lovers on the sidewalk
Walking hand in hand and enjoying such a nice day
Like songbirds on the purple tree
With yellow crown and red fruit
Butterflies around me

I felt so sweet and tender
But then we just surrender
But we can act
I never thought I could forget to flatter
When everything is more important
More exciting than our dating
But we can act

But we can act fresh lovers on the sidewalk
Walking hand in hand and enjoying such a nice day
Like notes in perfect harmony
In such a pretty melody that lights fire inside me
But we can act like lovers on the first date
Chewing bubble gum
I never felt so carefree
Just for one day we could forget all the problems we had

Cause it's such a pretty sunny day
Yeah it's such a pretty sunny day
