"Love is Strange"
Dick told Twain,
"fan that distant spark and realize the animal within each beating heart".
Don't be stalling
when love comes crawling.

Dance, dance, dance - here comes Lance.
You're my lump of clay.
I'll grade and critique your work today,
then's my turn to play.

No one can move you the way I do.
There's nothing left to hold on to and no denying my shadow your light.
I'll come to you in your dreams tonight.
Oh - yeah!
