You broke into my life
and lightened up my heart you made me see my good points helped me to want a new start you made me really sad happiness i tried you hurt me once again though my fears i had to hide.

every friendship has bad times every one has good we've had more ups than downs my love for you is still stood.

you broke into my soul you brightened up my mind although you cant be here now in the tough times you're behind.

i love you so much, friend you mean alot to me you helped me when i was at low times and have shown me what i can be even though you've let me down and sometimes made me cry the friendship i have inside me will be sure to never die you broke into my heart happiness still fills my day you've always seemed so close to me but yet so far away.

nothing i do or say now will stop you from leaving anything you do or say to me wont stop me from believing.

This friendship will last forever you really are a star memories filled with different notes like music playing from afar

you made me see my good points thank you for this new start.
