

Heritage

"Champion City"

Visit "Champion City" on MotoLyrics.com

So you have no self-esteem, so you blame it all on me
And now your jealousy wants a part of my champion city
If you're not a champ, you're just a chump.
Come on, what can you offer to the table, we're not a charity
And we don't care for your fable.
So run far away because you clearly can not take who we are
In this world, which you think belongs to you
So I'll make this all easy and lead you out the goddamn door right now.
Break away from what you think I am to you.
Slow your role before you get into what you don't know.
So I try and find the reasons why, why you want to fit in with me
And they're all lies, no more liars. Take my advice and try to Comprehend all the difference being true makes.

Visit Heritage page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.