when the shakes take hold tonight
when my blood flows at the speed of light in my eyes you'll see nothing I'm just here for your money you're just here for my time throw me over your shoulder when the shakes take over

don't put me down with the others don't put me down as another

in my eyes you'll see nothing

when the shakes take hold

I don't have to fight with you just to make it right with you there's no love to hide here for you don't try to find it you'll lose
