Come here and knock on my door
Come here, step inside
Come here, take off your folds
Come here and let it go

No one needs to know
No one if you say so
No one, please say so
No one

Come here, five minutes more
Come here, oh, go slow
Come here, curiosity don't do much for me

You won't hear from me by morning
All is well that ends well
I don't want more than a moment
That's all that I can take

I don't care who talks about us
I don't care what people say
I don't care what people say
I don't care what people say

Give me something new
Give me something to do
Give me something true
Something I can hold on to

You won't hear from me by morning
All is well that ends well
I don't want more than a moment
That's all that I can take

I don't care who talks about us
I don't care what people say
I don't care what people say
I don't care what people say

If you want it you can have it
I got more than I need
Come and get it, come and get it

Keep it if you can

No one knows better what to do
Simple arithmetic's, it's true
Now I feel fine, won't nothing bring me down
The truth is we all die

You won't hear from me by morning
All is well that ends well
I don't want more than a moment
That's all that I can take

I don't care who talks about us
I don't care what people say
I don't care what people say
I don't care what people say
