you know yesterdays lovers, today are just strangers keeping no one around, now that two is a crowd thought I heard a beat from your still heart but felt nothing

now I can't make it start through all the tears and breaking up

you wont call me for answers, I won't ask your for favours what will you do tonight to rise again through these dark skies thought I heard a beat from your still heart you felt

nothing
breaking up

nothing
breaking up

nothing
breaking up

pump your little heart, (heard a beat) pump your little heart, (make it start) pump your little heart,
pump your little heart.
