Sneaking slowly through the night
Outside, the air, it feels like eyes to you and I
So for a short time I'll come inside
Call me crazy but just maybe
I could be the one to change your mind
So take a chance
You never want to dwell on what could've been

Cuz I'm taking on every chance that comes around
And every look that's thrown my way
I've gotta get up, I've gotta get up to get in
And understand why we are superficially conveying
Life is so bad at forgetting me and where we came from

You know it's not so easy now
Everyone is scared about it
But you could never live without it
I know you want it so bad
You know I want it so bad
Can we see this through 'til the end
Of high and it's safe to carry on
We came for what we wanted, now we're gone

Believe it, I don't want to see you go
And I would appreciate a little self-control
We're just getting started here
Is this what you wanted me to say, I need to know
(We're just getting started here)
We're just getting started here

Cuz I'm taking on every chance that comes around
And every look that's thrown my way
I've gotta get up, I've gotta get up to get in
And understand why we are superficially conveying
Life is so bad at forgetting me and where we came from

Oh my God, for goodness sake
Everything that we say goes
We got one, you know it

I'm more about myself than I ever thought
I'd never follow you

Oh my God, for goodness sake
Everything that we say goes
Oh my God, for goodness sake
Everything that we say
We got one, you know it
We got one, you know it
Oh my God, for goodness sake
Everything that we say
We got one, you know it
We got one, we got one
We got one, you know it
We got one, we got one
