I hate to say it but your life is not right
You sleep all day and watch tv all night
You have your dreams, I know you have your dreams
But it's about time you forgot all your dreams
But I'm something, yeah I'm something
You think you know me but you don't know nothing
I've done it all, yeah I've done it all
I'm just waiting for the right phone call
Can't you see? That you and me
We share one or two similarities
I have my dreams you know I have my dreams
Sometimes I regret I forgot all my dreams
But I'm something, yeah I'm something
You think you know me but you don't know nothing
I've done it all, yeah I've done it all
I'm just waiting for the right phone call
And I can't believe it
The things that they say
No I can't believe it
Will I ever make it they say no way
