If I saw you standing there
Would you grace me with your smile
And if I came right up to you
Would you stay and talk awhile

'Cause I believe that I want you
And I believe that you want me too
The hardest part is not knowing
Tell me you believe it too

And if you saw me on the street
Would you say hello to me
And if we both were in the same cafe alone
Would you offer me a seat

'Cause I believe that I want you
And I believe that you want me too
The hardest part is not knowing
So tell me you believe it too

Oh no here she comes again
With a long and silky dress
And my hair is such a mess right now
Oh no here she comes again
I can't stop and talk to her
'Cause I don't know what to say

If I saw you standing there
Would you grace me with your smile
And if I came right up to you
Would you stay and talk awhile

'Cause I believe that I want you
And I believe that you want me too
The hardest part is not knowing
So tell me you believe it too

Oh no here she comes again
With a long and silky dress
And my hair is such a mess right now
Oh no here she comes again

I can't stop and talk to her
'Cause I don't know what to say
I don't know what to say

I believe that I want you
And I believe that you want me too
The hardest part is not knowing
So tell me you believe it too
Tell me you believe it too
