The wind blows colder, say have you heard the news afar?
They say hope fades, we might as well go catch a falling star
Before the night is falling, gaze in her light for what it's worth Fate has called us, we have to stop the end of Middle Earth
Beyond the river, Beyond the river
Mystery floats by, she never fails to give a ride Anduin is ageless, I think about what's on the other side
Beyond the river, Beyond the river
I'm caught up in this Odyssey Floating down the river, on my way Chances are there's a moon tonight That's good, for a shadow's following Inward, onward, into the land
That made this deadly ring.
Beyond the river, Beyond the river
