You sit waiting for the sunrise
It's the same thing every day
But changes on the horizon
Will take you far away
Bilbo Baggins under the hill
Peeping out above the windowsill
Fat and dumb I'm sure you've become
On the carousel of ho and hum
No doubt and no expectations

Smoke rings drift in the morning
As Gandalf opens the gate
Bringing news of adventures
There's no time to wait
Indications are on the rise
From the currents of the passerby
Oh we have so much to see
In the end you will agree

no doubt and no expectations

Don't wait living on the inside
Too sure that this is the one
Keep your spirit in a free ride
And your day will come
Once you travel around the world
You can feel your boundaries
Leave your sign to follow behind
While you're tripping in the fantasy

No doubt and no expectations
