you little whore you asked for more you wanna be sure that the guy at your door is the one you have always ignored what are you doing it for you were a friend of mine it was long ago i guess 1999 when everything seemed fine then one day you said ok and went away have you ever walked around naked have you ever sung a song for those who want you to dance

well tomorrow around three switch on your tv you gonna see me playing in the band and everyone will clap their hands and call me a friend but there won't be you there won't be you cos on that day when i played you stayed at home and i don't think that you were alone

have you ever sung a song for those who want you to dance...
