"Sunrise"

slowed down emotions damn grown up life
too idealised

some sounds are like music couple ladies landed on the carpet just to play a little part listen how the village people

tell the fairy tales
every morning early before the sun rise on your own you set out on the road kicked the stone loosened your belt now your an adult

Classic example
we cant be alike
let us share the broken the break-up's on tonight before the sun rise
