hey citrus
hey liquor
I love it when when you touch each other
hey whiskey
hey ginger
I come to you with rigid fingers.

i see judas in the hard eyes of the boys working the corners.
i feel jesus in the clumsiness of young and awkward lovers.

hey barroom
hey tavern
I find hope in all the souls you gather.
hey citrus
hey liquor
I love it when we come together.

I feel jesus in the clumsiness of young and awkward
lovers.
I feel judas in the long odds of the rackets on the
corners.
I feel jesus in the tenderness of honest nervous lovers.
I feel judas in the pistols and the pagers that come with all the powders.

lost in fog and love and faithless fear.
I've had kisses that make Judas seem sincere.
