

Hold Steady, The "Party Pit"

i guess I met her at the party pit she said those kids she's with were selling it so we sailed off on some separate trips
she got pinned down at the party pit.

I went away to school that fall she stuck around with all those stickpin dolls sped through the scene until the engine stalled at some suburban shopping mall

sailed away on such separate trips
she got pinned down at the party pit.

I came back to start a band, of course.
saw her walking thru the crystal court.
she made a scene by the revolving doors she's gonna walk around and drink some more.

so we walked across that grain belt bridge.
into bright new minneapolis she said i think that all those things I did were just momentum from the party pit.

sailed away on such separate trips
she got pinned down at the party pit

I'm pretty sure we kissed.

gonna walk around and drink some more gonna walk around and drink.
