I was a ghost before you came
I was a slave but then I changed
I will take the good and bad from many
When i am a slave to this again

So leave me alone
Before the strain of listening to me
Becomes more than you can bear
Or maybe this time we will be fine
Or else tomorrow will be lost

I feel you calling me when i am alone
I feel you calling me it's keeping me up
I wanna be with you now

There was a force I swear, I thought it'd take me out
And there was a chance that we could go so far
As I look in your eyes & now that you say
No War, no war, no more
No more battles to fight in this life

I feel you calling me when i'm alone
I feel you calling me, it's keeping me up
I wanna be with you now

I feel you calling me when i'm alone
Hot nights and moonlight it's keeping me up
I gotta be with you now

Tell me you'll wait till then to find
What races and grates before we explode
And maybe this time we will be fine
And our tomorrow, it won't be lost within this life
