Though I cannot hear a word that you're saying
I can still feel, feel the warm air, feel the warm air, Travels from your whisper as I try to decipher the undecipherable.

I'm waiting for you to lean in again
With those faint and precious sounds
Turn my head halfway and I will,
Yeah I will swallow each one of them down.
And swipe the remaining thoughts from your lips
Your face so close; everything else eclipsed.

In the event of your unfulfillment don't replace me in that sorry state, oh no
Know that it all seems so intriguing
When thoughts of me start leaving you behind, behind
And I hope that you, you understand that I'm not leaving, going anywhere
Hope that you, you understand that I'm not leaving,
going anywhere

Don't bother telling me what it is you did tonight
'cause I already got an idea
And I know you did it like I was never there Like I was never there

Well this phone just impersonates your voice night after night

I'm waiting for you to lean in again
With those faint and precious sounds
Turn my head halfway and I will,
Yeah I will swallow each one of them down.
Swipe the remaining thoughts from your lips
Your face so close; everything else eclipsed.

In the event of your unfulfillment don't replace me in
that sorry state, oh no
Know that it all seems so intriguing
When thoughts of me start leaving you behind, behind
And I hope that you, you understand that I'm not

leaving, going anywhere
Hope that you, you understand that I'm not leaving,
going anywhere

'cause this phone impersonates your voice night after,
This phone impersonates your voice night after night,
night after night,
This phone impersonates your voice night after night.

And everything I start,
I can't even finish oh no
And all of the while,
And all of the while,
And all of the while,
Baby baby baby baby,
Baby baby baby,
Oh you, oh you, oh you, oh you're nothing
Oh you, oh you, oh you're nothing
