I don't know why you love me like you do
It's not like I'm special, special like you.
Open your eyes, she's just been reading lines
But she's ever so convincing
I want to believe her this time

Who said anything about falling love
Lost my mind when I surrendered
Everything to find you're enough
This is my mistake 'cause
Who said anything about falling in love
In love, in love

Someone like you was made to be enjoyed
But it won't be by me and that leaves me terrified
I'm coming to terms
I know it didn't mean a thing to you
Didn't mean a thing
But it meant quite a lot to me
Meant too much, I can see

Who said anything about falling love
Lost my mind when I surrendered
Everything to find you're enough
This is my mistake 'cause
Who said anything about falling in love
In love, in love

I know, I know that you're just being kind
But it's giving me false hope
I know, I know that I only need a little
Just a little bit of false hope
I know, I know that I'm only seeing what I, what I want

Who said anything about falling love
Lost my mind when I surrendered
Everything to find you're enough
This is my mistake 'cause
Who said anything about falling in love
Lost my mind when I surrendered
Everything to find you're enough

This is my mistake 'cause
Who said anything about falling in love
Lost my mind when I surrendered
Everything to find you're enough
This is my mistake
Who said anything about falling in love
This is my mistake
Who said anything about falling in love
