Oh Lord bring me near!

Alone, alone

This is a message to the human race
about how sometimes people can end up doing evil things.

This story is about one young man and the monster he becomes.

So lets go back 30 years ago.

Alone

His parents were drug addicts and they did not love
him very much.
As a baby let him cry for hours and hours.

He was born into this world alone.

When he entered school all the kids made fun of him.
He was different. They pushed him on the floor.
They spit on him, and called him "faggot".

Everyday, they stripped his soul away.

Years went by and he became immune to the pain
and nothing but hate did remain.

As a teenager no girls would ever date him...
He would just watch pornography all day he wanted to die...
and he just looked out the window and watched the world go by.

He began to take drugs and became addicted to drugs
and sold his body for drugs, no one would stop him.

One morning he was leaving an after hours club high
on cocaine,

and he looked at the ruthless people that walk towards
the bright sunlight
and he thought to himself
"I am going to destroy the world".

"So many people how can I kill them all", he thought.
"A virus", came to his mind... and he went home to his small apartment to plan the end of mankind.

"I will do research on deadly viruses and I will how
learn how to spread them",
he thought to himself.
So he searched the internet and discovered exactly
what he needed to know...
his plan was now all ready to go.

One part hate, one part fear, one part queer, oh Lord
bring me near!
And with the billion thoughts in his head of all evil words people said, he spread the virus to make them all dead.
