

The Huntingtons

"High School Rock-N-Roll"

Visit "High School Rock-N-Roll" on MotoLyrics.com summer's over and the bells are ringin' down the halls the girls are singin' to the boys who will be bringin' their science books to class it's 2 o'clock and they can't sit still brains are tired and they've lost their will to pay attention then they get that chill that begs the time to pass

"cause all the kids
can't wait to go home and turn on the radio it's alive on the 45
with no place else to go will I know

the kids are goin' crazy for the high school rock drivin' mom crazy
with the high school rock rock, rock, rockin'
to the high school rock and roll notes are passin' all around the room homecoming is comin' soon and the guys are gonna meet their doom if they don't learn how to dance the nurse's office is gettin' full with all the boys that think they're cool enough to get sent home from school so they won't leave much to chance

Visit The Huntingtons page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.