somebody's trying to kill me i woke up late this morning tried my best to be on time i cant think straigh this early but i got too much on my mind and he's watching me i can't make out his face oh no his shape is all is see i don't get enough sleep and everybody's on my case my stress level is rising at an unsuspecting pace oh go away

the last thing that i need is someone stalking me today somebody's trying to kill me and i don't think i'm ready to take a bow somebody's trying to kill me and i don't need the headache right now i take a (????) from my love how i gotta (??) this man words all run together and my brain is going numb oh god help me

make him go away before he starts this killing spree let me get through one more night and i'll finally reach the end of this road that's token me so long to drive well i'll never do this again
