

The Huntingtons

"Strength To Endure"

Visit "Strength To Endure" on MotoLyrics.com

Walking through the crossfire heart feeling heavy and hopeless
And wonderin' how I ever will see through this darkness Every drop of blood can be so beautiful
And I sure was bleedin' the drops by the bucketful

I have the strength to endure and all the love that's pure
I have the strength to endure because, because

I'm not afraid to tell her just how things work Ride a hurricane through the fast lane always looking over my shoulder
She said, "Something about you and neon lights always glow hot"
Baby we can see this through, just give me all the strength you got

I have the strength to endure and all the love so pure
I have the strength to endure because, because

I have the strength to endure and all the love so pure
I have the strength to endure because, because

I'm not afraid to tell her just how things work Ride a hurricane through the fast lane always looking
over my shoulder
She said, "There's something about you and neon lights always glow hot"
Baby we can see this through, just give me all the
strength you got

I have the strength to endure and all the love so pure
I have the strength to endure because, because

I have the strength to endure and all the love so pure
I have the strength to endure because, because

Visit The Huntingtons page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

