I wanna know why you put me outta line
And tell me that everything is cool and roll your eyes?
You just don't know how that hurts me so
And what can I do to promise you to let me go?

Well, was it something that I said or something that I did
Something that I lost or something that I hid?
Tell me once again was it something that I said?

It's just not right
Well, it's just not right
Well, it's just not right
That you won't tell me goodnight

Well, it's just not right
Well, it's just not right
Well, it's just not right
That you won't tell me goodnight

I wanna know why every time I try to make sense of you
You turn your back and don't reply
Well, you just don't know how that hurts me so
And what can I do to promise you to let me go?

Well, was it something that I said or something that I
did
Something that I lost or something that I hid?
Tell me once again was it something that I said?

It's just not right
Well, it's just not right
Well, it's just not right
That you won't tell me goodnight

Well, it's just not right
Well, it's just not right
Well, it's just not right
That you won't tell me goodnight

Well, it's just not right
Well, it's just not right

Well, it's just not right
That you won't tell me goodnight

Well, it's just not right
Well, it's just not right
Well, it's just not right
That you won't tell me goodnight
